Continuing Education Center

Programs > Workforce Readiness Skills Program

In Partnership with Shiminly

Workforce Readiness Skills Program

The Continuing Education Center at Al Ain University, in partnership with Shiminly, offers a specialized training program designed to equip students and graduates with the essential personal and professional skills needed to succeed in today's workplace.

The program focuses on developing professional and interpersonal skills, enhancing communication abilities, and preparing participants to adapt to modern workplace requirements and succeed in internships and early-career opportunities.

Program Features

Guided Self-Paced Lessons

Flexible learning lessons designed to allow participants to explore and practice essential human and professional skills at their own pace.

Real-World Applications

Interactive activities and practical scenarios that reinforce learning through real-world workplace situations.

Assessments & Reporting

Structured assessments designed to evaluate participants' competencies and their ability to apply acquired skills in practice, supported by performance reports to track progress.

Certifications & Performance Reports

Participants who successfully complete the program receive a performance report and a certificate of completion.

Target Audience

- University and college students.
- Recent graduates.

- Individuals seeking internship opportunities.
- Anyone interested in developing professional skills and preparing for the job market.

Program Fee

AED 400 + VAT = AED 420

Invest in your professional development and build the skills needed for a successful career.

Proceed to Pay Now

View Page